THE NUTCRACKER

ACT ONE

When the curtain rises, we are in the Stahlbaum home. Dr. and Mrs. Stahlbaum, their young daughter Marie, and their son Fritz are preparing for their annual holiday party – a festive gathering for relatives and close friends, but most of all, a party for the children.

The children arrive with their parents as the doors open. All rejoice at the large, lighted tree, and the children speculate about what is in the package. While everyone greets each other, puzzling things begin to occur – the lights flicker and build to a frenzy, it's almost as though there's a lightning storm in the grand parlor. Then, at the door, an eerie glow fills the portal and a mysterious old gentleman appears. We soon learn that the gentleman is none other than Marie's beloved godfather, Herr Drosselmeyer. He is a marvelous inventor of moving toys, and he has brought with him magical gifts. Drosselmeyer brings out a large Nutcracker and gives it to Marie. He shows everybody how it works and Marie is delighted with her present. Drosselmeyer conjures life-size magic dolls that perform for the guests, after which the children dance, and all receive wonderful presents.

Dr. Stahlbaum and his wife perform a final dance. As the party ends, the guests shake hands solemnly, reluctant to say goodnight to each other, hoping that they will meet again soon. Everyone goes off to bed, the room darkens, and only by the lights of the Christmas tree can we make out the empty space. It is midnight. Marie has fallen asleep with her Nutcracker. Drosselmeyer enters and sends Marie wondrous dreams of dancing mice, a battle between a fearsome Mouse King and the Nutcracker (now life-sized) and a magical forest with a Snow King and Queen and their dancing snowflakes.

ACT TWO

When the curtain rises, Marie's dream has taken us to a magical Land of Sweets. Angels glide about the stage. The Sugarplum Fairy, who rules this land, makes a regal entrance. She dances a charming variation and welcomes a full assortment of delightful dancing treats: Hot Chocolate, Coffee, Tea, Caviar, Marzipan, Polichinelles, and a bouquet of sparkling, jeweled flowers. Next, Marie enters and meets the Sugarplum Fairy, who asks Marie how she came to be in this magical place. Marie relays, in pantomime form, that on Christmas Eve, after a grand and glorious party, she dreamt of tiny mice and a fight between the Mouse King and the Nutcracker Doll. Defending her Nutcracker, she threw her slipper at the King of Mice, magically dispatching him with one mighty throw. The mysterious Drosselmeyer then rewarded her with this extraordinary journey. The Sugarplum Fairy congratulates Marie and escorts her to a place where she can watch the entertainment that has been arranged for her pleasure.

Marie watches a series of dances by the denizens of the Land of Sweets. When they are finished, the Sugarplum Fairy and her Cavalier perform the grandest dance of all. All return for a spirited finale as the Sugarplum Fairy, her Cavalier and Marie bid everyone farewell.

30 BALLET CHICAGO

CELEBRATING 30 YEARS OF ARTISTIC EXCELLENCE

ARTISTIC DIRECTION

Daniel Duell

Founder and Artistic Director, Ballet Chicago
Repetiteur, The George Balanchine Trust

Ballet Chicago Artistic Director Daniel Duell is a leading figure in the development of American Classicism and is passionate about advancing ballet technique in its purest and most energetic form. As a dancer with the New York City Ballet from 1972 to 1987, he was taught and coached daily by George Balanchine. Rising quickly through the ranks, Mr. Duell was promoted to Soloist in 1977 and then to Principal Dancer in 1979. He performed a wide-ranging repertoire, including leading roles in ballets by George Balanchine, Jerome Robbins, Peter Martins, and Jacques d'Amboise, among others, and danced in several works created specifically for him.

A Ford Foundation Scholarship recipient from the age of 13, Mr. Duell trained with the Dayton Civic Ballet and The School of American Ballet. At 19, he was invited to join NYCB. In addition to his fifteen years at NYCB, he was a featured guest artist for numerous companies nationwide and appeared in several PBS Dance in America public television programs.

Mr. Duell has been choreographing since 1980 and has created works for Ballet Chicago, Ballet Hispanico of New York, Dayton Ballet, Harkness Dance Theatre, The Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival, and The School of American Ballet. He also collaborated with WTTW Channel 11 in Chicago to design two programs: an Emmy Award-winning special (Outstanding Cultural Programming) on Ballet Chicago, and Love in Four Acts, showcasing four Chicago choreographers selected by Mr. Duell. He received the prestigious Ruth Page Award from the Chicago Dance Community for his artistic direction of The Ballet Chicago Studio Company.

A frequent lecturer on ballet, music, and the arts, Mr. Duell also serves on several nonprofit and advisory boards and has been an adjudicator for the National Endowment for the Arts and The Illinois Arts Council. He is a renowned répétiteur for The George Balanchine Trust and stages ballets across the United States.

In addition, Mr. Duell conducts master classes in both the United States and Europe, including repeated engagements at The School of American Ballet, Indiana University at Bloomington, The University of Iowa, and the Bulgarian National Dance Academy in Sofia, Bulgaria. He has taught and coached the Royal Danish Ballet Company in preparation for their New York seasons and Copenhagen performances of Balanchine/Stravinsky masterworks. He returned to The School of American Ballet to teach in March 2019 and also taught company class to the New York City Ballet during their March 2024 residency in Chicago.

ARTISTIC DIRECTION

Patricia Blair

Associate Artistic Director, Ballet Chicago

School Director, Ballet Chicago

Répétiteur, The George Balanchine Trust

Patricia Blair was born in New York City and began studying ballet at the age of 7. She launched her professional performing career at 17. She trained at various schools, including the North Carolina School of the Arts and Harkness House for Ballet Arts, but credits her summer at The School of American Ballet with igniting her passion for and commitment to the Balanchine Technique®. While at North Carolina School of the Arts, she was honored to dance the role of Myrtha in Giselle alongside principal dancers Svea Ekloff (Grande Théâtre de Genève) and Burton Taylor of American Ballet Theatre.

After leaving NCSA, she returned to NYC, studied with Wilhelm Burman, David Howard, and Nanette Charisse, and joined the Eglevsky Ballet under the direction of NYCB former principal Edward Villella. Six years later, while still dancing full-time with the company, she became one of the organization's Ballet Masters.

Ms. Blair performed as a guest artist, developing new works with numerous NY choreographers, danced in musical theater productions across the US and on Broadway, and briefly entered the LA motion picture world with Pavanne for a Dying Princess, a solo dance film created especially for her.

Highly committed to the artistic education and personal well-being of young dancers, Ms. Blair began working with children at the age of 15. Her dedication to classical ballet and passing it on to young artists remains one of her greatest passions. In the late 70s and early 80s, she volunteered to teach at-risk youth in East Harlem, in both churches and community centers. She also taught at Steps NY and Harkness House for Ballet Arts.

Ms. Blair moved to Chicago in September 1987 at the invitation of Daniel Duell to stage ballets for Chicago City Ballet's fall season. After just three weeks of working together, Mr. Duell invited her to relocate to Chicago and join his artistic team.

Later that year, they founded Ballet Chicago. Ms. Blair has served in many capacities—teacher, répétiteur, ballet master, and administrator—and now shares all aspects of artistic and administrative management with Mr. Duell.

In addition to her work with Ballet Chicago, she has been a guest teacher for Carolina Ballet, St. Louis Ballet, Ballet Idaho, Pacific Northwest Ballet School in Seattle, National Dance Institute, New Mexico School of the Arts in Santa Fe, and Indiana University in Bloomington. She has also had the honor of teaching at The School of American Ballet in New York City.

Ms. Blair has a lifelong love for the ballets of George Balanchine. She values both the privilege of having performed many of them and the joy of passing them on to today's dancers. As a répétiteur for The George Balanchine Trust, she is responsible for staging and maintaining a large body of work for Ballet Chicago and has also staged Balanchine's ballets for St. Louis Ballet, Indiana University Bloomington, and Huntsville Ballet.

ARTISTIC DIRECTION & GUEST ARTIST

George Balanchine Choreographer, Sugar Plum Pas de Deux

Born in St. Petersburg, Russia, George Balanchine (1904-1983) is regarded as the foremost contemporary choreographer in the world of ballet. He came to the United States in late 1933, at the age of 29, accepting the invitation of the young American arts patron Lincoln Kirstein (1907-96), whose great passions included the dream of creating a ballet company in America. At Balanchine's behest, Kirstein was also prepared to support the formation of an American academy of ballet that would eventually rival the long-established schools of Europe. A major artistic figure of the twentieth century, Balanchine revolutionized the look of classical ballet. Using classicism as his base, he heightened, quickened, expanded, inverted, and streamlined the fundamentals of the 400-year-old language of academic dance. This had an inestimable influence on the growth of dance in America. Although at first his style seemed particularly suited to the energy and speed of American dancers, especially those he trained, Balanchine's ballets are now performed by major classical ballet companies throughout the world. The George Balanchine biography information provided courtesy of the New York City Ballet.

Ahmad Hill Guest Artist, Nutcracker, Snow King, Ukranian Babka

Ahmad Hill (Chicago, IL) started dancing through the dance ministry of St. Mark Methodist Church and then trained with Russell Talbert until he was accepted to Chicago High School for the Arts (ChiArts). A meeting with Kevin Iega Jeff led Ahmad to the summer program with Deeply Rooted Dance Theater (DRDT) where he also met guest instructor Kevin Thomas who invited him to apprentice with his company, Collage Dance Collective. He also worked with Joshua Ishmon's project-based company, Production: COLORS, before returning to DRDT where he performed works such as Heaven, Church of Nations, When Men, and Flack. Ahmad danced for GreeneWorks Project directed by Terrence Greene. He performed the lead in Greene's Coming of the King and assisted Greene in setting his work Empathy on Ahmad's alumni school ChiArts. Ahmad also joined Ballet Austin II, during his time spent there, he's performed Steven Mills's version of The Nutcracker as the Nutcracker Prince, as well as the Lead Male in Paquita.

GUEST ARTIST

Ted Seymour
Guest Artist,
Herr Drosselmeyer

Ballet Chicago alumnus Ted Seymour brings a wealth of unique experience to the teaching of young dancers. After beginning his training at Dallas Metropolitan Ballet, Mr. Seymour studied on full scholarship for two years at the School of Ballet Chicago, where he performed major roles in Balanchine masterpieces with the Ballet Chicago Studio Company (BCSC). He then continued his studies at the School of American Ballet, also on full scholarship. Following his graduation performance, where he took on the demanding partnering role of "Waltz Boy" in Balanchine's Serenade, Mr. Seymour joined Cedar Lake Contemporary Ballet for two years, working with prominent contemporary choreographers such as Nicolo Fonte, Edwaard Liang, and Benoit-Swan Pouffer. In 2007, he was invited to join The Suzanne Farrell Ballet, where he has performed featured roles in many Balanchine works, including Episodes, La Valse, and the beautiful Act II pas de deux from A Midsummer Night's Dream.

A gifted teacher from an early age, Mr. Seymour joined the Ballet Chicago faculty in 2009. His teaching is characterized by a deep understanding of classical vocabulary, a passion for precise execution, innate musical comprehension, a strong commitment to both expansive movement and meticulous detail, and formidable partnering skills. As a brilliant dancer still in his performing years, Mr. Seymour demonstrates male technique with clarity and flair.

Mr. Seymour is also a rising choreographer and began creating dances in 2001 for Ballet Chicago. While a student at SAB, he was invited by Peter Martins to participate in the New York Choreographic Institute. He has steadily created new works for the Ballet Chicago Studio Company's main stage performances and educational programs, showcasing a distinctive voice and an innovative, elegant movement vocabulary that blends contemporary movement with a classical foundation.

Mr. Seymour recently completed several critically acclaimed works, including Creatures of Prometheus for the 2012 International Beethoven Festival, Celestial Rites for Ballet Chicago's 25th Anniversary Season at the Harris Theater for Music and Dance in 2013, Danzón No. 2 to the music of Arturo Márquez, commissioned by and performed live with Chicago's Lakeview Orchestra in April 2014, and Intermezzi, a world premiere performed with live piano at the Harris Theater for Music and Dance in May 2014. Mr. Seymour was named Resident Choreographer for Ballet Chicago in Fall 2012.

The Philip and Marsha Dowd Merit Scholarship Program

The Philip and Marsha Dowd Merit Scholarship Program was established in 2002 through a generous gift from Mr. and Mrs. Dowd. The Merit Scholarship Program offers tuition assistance to gifted students and supports world-class faculty members, répétiteurs, and guest teachers. Many of the students you see on stage are part of the Scholarship Program. Philip and Marsha Dowd have generously offered to match all donations dollar for dollar up to $60,000 annually.

We gratefully acknowledge our donors to the Dowd Merit Scholarship during this past year.

About Ballet Chicago

Co-founded in 1987 by acclaimed New York City Ballet Principal dancer Daniel Duell, and former ballerina Patricia Blair, Ballet Chicago is an internationally recognized training program. The school curriculum is based on the ballet technique established by George Balanchine, the 20th century's most celebrated choreographer. Ballet Chicago is dedicated to providing each student superior ballet training in a culture that fosters personal growth, and is known for its ability to transform dancers through highly focused guidance, correction, and validation for each student.

ANNUAL PROGRAMS

PREPARATORY DIVISION

Ballet Chicago's Preparatory Division classes provide an inspired introduction to the arts with a focus on creativity, group interaction, motor skill development and the joy of self-expression.

- Creative Movement (ages 3 - 4)
- Introduction to Ballet (age 5 - 7)

STUDENT DIVISION

The School of Ballet Chicago offers a comprehensive training environment that provides students with the skills necessary to pursue a career in classical ballet and inspires each of them to reach their very best potential through the study and discipline of classical ballet. The technique taught at The School is based on standards established by George Balanchine and emphasizes the energy, musicality, articulation, and generosity of spirit that is the hallmark of Balanchine trained dancers.

- Ballet 1 (ages 7 & 8) - no audition required
- Ballet 2 - audition required
- Ballet 3 - audition required
- Ballet 4 - audition required

PROFESSIONAL DIVISION

The Professional Division offers a comprehensive training program for the serious student who aspires to be a professional dancer. Admittance to the program is by audition only. The students in the program train daily to master advanced technical skill, consistency, musicality, articulation, and natural expression. To provide performing experience that is a critical component to the student's development, the Ballet Chicago Studio Company was created in the fall of 1997. Composed of advanced level students, The Ballet Chicago Studio Company performs professional level repertoire in theatrical venues throughout metropolitan Chicago. The company repertory consists primarily of the works of George Balanchine, whose ballets are performed by dance companies all over the world. This unique opportunity to perform the ballets of Mr. Balanchine is made possible through a special arrangement with the George Balanchine Trust.

- Ballet 6 (ages 14 and up) - audition required
- Ballet 7 (ages 15 and up) - audition required
- Ballet 8 (ages 16 and up) - audition required

Children's Programs

Junior Intensive (June 16 - 20, July 28 - August 1, August 4 - 8, 2025)

We believe that all students deserve the opportunity to develop their technical abilities and explore their creativity. Ballet Chicago's Junior Intensive Program provides students the foundation necessary to excel in both areas. We inspire them to cultivate beautiful posture, teach them how to combine purity of form with individual expressiveness, and show them how to increase focus for their minds and their bodies. Both in the classroom and in performance, Ballet Chicago builds technique, artistry, awareness and self-confidence.

The Junior Intensive curriculum includes Ballet Technique, Repertoire, Modern Dance, and Classical Spanish Dance, Body Conditioning and Stretch classes. Two class levels are available; placement is based on age, amount of training, and level of advancement. Additionally, pointe and pre-pointe classes are available for those enrolled in Level B.

Tiny Dancers (5 week sessions beginning Spring 2025)

"I am Lucie Richard, and I have been a ballet dancer for 15 years, with the past three as a student at the School of American Ballet in New York City. My journey began when I was two years old at Ballet Chicago, inspired by my older sister's love for dance and the school. From that early age, Ballet Chicago's remarkable Balanchine-based training and nurturing environment shaped who I am as a dancer and a person, cultivating my skills, discipline, and artistry and paving the way for me to follow my dreams at SAB."
Lucie Richard, School of American Ballet

"I could have never made it this far without the foundation I gained at The School of Ballet Chicago. I am forever indebted and grateful."
Lara O'Brien, Principal Dancer, Carolina Ballet
